“ Changing Lives
We Rise By Lifting Others “

The fulfilling feeling of giving back and contributing to society is unparalleled. No one has ever become poor by sharing. It involves a certain amount of giving. It's not how much we give but how much love we put into giving. As we grow older, we discover that we have two hands – one for helping ourselves and the other for helping others.” We all come to the world with the joy of having things, but when we leave this world, we should have experienced the joy of contributing and giving back to the society. That is a mature joy, the real joy. There's nothing more rewarding than giving back and making a difference in the lives of the people in this great community.

“ Giving is not just about making a donation. It is about making a difference.”

Medical Campaign

It gave us great joy to see Amity University, Noida's commitment to nation-building beyond education. We participated in their Social Welfare Activity in Raipur Khadar, Uttar Pradesh's slums. A drawing competition was held, followed by the delivery of masks and sanitizers to slum children attending school. Amity University students visit these slums on a regular basis and work diligently to improve their education and health

Lemon Giving

As the price of lemons has increased recently and people selling lemonade on roadsides are facing a lot of problems because of this. Our team took an initiative this month and distributed lemons around village Tangra to lemonade vendors. What a heartfelt experience it was!

Lemons are 'sour'

- Priced over ₹280/kg in retail market
- Highest price went up to ₹400/kg

AMRITSAR, APRIL 12

Common man's summer drink — the humble shikanji or nimboo pani — seems to have become a luxury for the poor this summer, as lemons are priced over ₹280 per kg in the retail market.

The prices are more than double of the highest price of lemons recorded last year (₹150). Vegetable sellers in the city claim that prices have come down from ₹400 per kg as lemons were priced above ₹300 per kg in the wholesale vegetable market and were hard to find.

Cultivators said the early onset of summer has resulted in shedding flowers from the trees. As a result, the yield has fallen drastically. Though the increase in prices is a yearly phenomenon, as the demand increases during the summer months, never have these been sold above ₹150 per kg. The normal retail price of lemons in the city has always been around ₹120 per kg, which decreases to nearly half in the winter months.

Harmeet Singh, a commission agent, said: "The prices are high across the country." He said while the demand is at an all-time high, the supply is low. High fuel prices have further made transportation from other states costly.

Even the prices of other seasonal green vegetables are unaffordable for the poor. Ladyfinger is priced at ₹120 per kg, 'kaddu' and 'halwa', too, are priced at ₹50 and ₹40, respectively.

Local resident Ragni Arora said: "The only solace is that the price of onions is stable at ₹30 per kg." She complained that managing the kitchen budget has become a headache.
